Music by Jonathan Dove
Words by David Lan

An English Touring Opera and The Young Vic Production

The Times ****

"Dove's church opera has now joined the caravan of English Touring Opera, the company forever crisscrossing the country with a mission to widen opera's reach. The piece couldn't have found a better home... No Covent Garden or Glyndebourne chorus offers the thrill of ordinary people playing ordinary people"

The Guardian ****

"A compelling work of music theatre"

Evening Standard

"Simple and successful... A project that really does succeed in bringing people together for a common purpose without the slightest hint of being patronising"
